CRITICISE FRENCH RIFLE.

Army Experts Think the American Small Arm is the Best.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 24.—A sample of the new French small arm, the improved Lebel rifle, has been received at the War Department and is being carefully examined by the experts. The gun is about four inches longer than the new American army rifle, slightly smaller in calibre and a pound or two heavier, but it does not appear that it surpasses the American arm in range of accuracy.

It is much slower to load than the American gun; the center of gravity is continually shifting with the movement of the ammunition in the magazine, and there is danger that a shell in the magazine might be exploded by a sharp blow of the stock upon the ground causing the pointed bullet of one shell to strike the primer of the one above it. A queer square ribbed bayonet, more than twenty inches in length, fitted with a sword handle of aluminum, gives the French gun a formidable appearance, but our ordnance officers think better of our knife bayonet.

KING SPONSOR FOR BABY.

Grandson of American Has a Royal Sponsor.

LONDON, July 24.—King Edward was one of the godfathers of the Duke of Manchester's second son, who was christened here in the Chapel Royal, St. James palace.

The King was represented by Earl Granville, a lord in waiting. The other sponsors were Eugene Zimmermann, of Cincinnati, father-in-law of the duke, and Copanelo, Duchess of Manchester, widow of the eighth duke.

Mississippi water, brought over especially for the occasion, was used at the christening. The mother was indisposed and unable to be present, but a fashionable gathering attended the ceremony.
